

Northern Territory reports 2007–2010

June 2010

1. Young, M. 2009. Editorial: Key challenges facing gambling research in Australia. Gambling Research, 21(1), pp.3–7.
2. Young, M., Stevens, M., and Tyler, W. 2008. Northern Territory 2005 gambling prevalence survey: An extended analysis. Darwin: School for Social and Policy Research, Charles Darwin University.
3. Young, M., Tyler, W., Lamb, D. and Stevens, M. 2008. Expenditure on electronic gaming machines in the Northern Territory: A venues-based analysis. Darwin: School for Social and Policy Research, Charles Darwin University.
4. Young, M., Tyler, W. and Lee, W. 2007. "Destination-Style Gambling": A review of the literature concerning the reduction of problem gambling and related social harm through the consolidation of gambling supply structures Darwin: School for Social and Policy Research, Charles Darwin University.
5. Stevens, M. and Young, M. 2009a. Correlates of Reported Gambling Problems Amongst the Indigenous and General Population of the Northern Territory, Darwin, School for Social and Policy Research.
6. Stevens, M. and Young, M. 2009b. Reported Gambling Problems in the Indigenous and Total Australian Population. Report to Gambling Research Australia. Darwin, School for Social and Policy Research.
7. Christie, M., Greatorex, J., Gurruwiwi, D., Djirrimbilpilwuy, F., Galathi, J., Gapany, D., et al. 2009. Workshop report on regulated gambling and problem gambling among Aborigines from remote NT communities: A Yolŋu case study: Darwin: School for Australian Indigenous Knowledge Systems and School for Social and Policy Research, Charles Darwin University.
8. Doran, B. and Young, M. 2009. The Spatial Distribution of Gambling Vulnerability in Greater Darwin and Alice Springs. Report prepared for the Community Benefit Committee, Department of Justice, Northern Territory Government. Darwin, School for Social and Policy Research.
9. Doran, B., Young, M. and Sharma, S. 2009. Gambling participation by temporary residents and local impacts: An exploratory study of the Sunshine Coast. Canberra: Australian National University.
10. Doran, B., Young, M., Lamb, D. and Stevens M. 2009. An Extended Analysis of the 2005 Northern Territory Gambling Prevalence Survey. Darwin: School for Social and Policy Research, Charles Darwin University.
11. Fogarty, C. and Young, M. 2008. Gambling harm-minimisation measures post 1999: An Australian overview with particular reference to the Northern Territory. Darwin: School for Social and Policy Research, Charles Darwin University.